heart to heart

With Thanksgiving a little over a week away, I want to share this powerful illustration with you. It will inspire greater gratitude in our hearts.

“Our gratitude should be expressed both to God and man! In 1860 Edward Spencer was a student at Northwestern University. One morning in September the report came that the finest passenger boat on the Great Lakes had sunk about three miles off shore. He ran to the lake and, being an excellent swimmer, plunged in and saved a woman clinging to a piece of wreckage. Seventeen times he did this, each time saving a life. The almost superhuman efforts that he used broke his health for life and made it impossible for him the career he would otherwise have had. When he was an old man, Mr. Spencer acknowledged that not one of the seventeen had ever thanked him” (Selected)

Doesn't this remind us of the 10 lepers Jesus healed? Only one came back and said “Thank you”. (Luke 17: 11-19. May we never fail to feel the deep thankfulness that should fill our hearts for all the Lord continually does for us! May our lives truly be described as a “Thanksgiving”!
